ACADEMIC CUSTOMS AND DRESS

The origins of many customs of the academic world are to be traced to the Middle Ages, particularly the eleventh and twelfth centuries when the first European universities – Bologna, Paris, and Oxford — were founded.

In their original organization, the universities were like medieval corporations or guilds. In fact the word “universitas” originally referred to any kind of corporation. The students at the universities were equated to guild apprentices, and so the completion of the apprenticeship was celebrated by a “commencement” marking the beginning of their careers.

In the twelfth century, everyone wore gowns. The social and economic status of an individual was shown by the extra features, such as fur trimming, on the gowns. Cloaks with hoods were worn over gowns for protection in bad weather. Degrees began to be awarded in the thirteenth century, and different styles of gowns and different colors came to represent the various degrees and disciplines.

Over the centuries the styles of dress changed, and by the seventeenth century, the wearing of gowns by men had virtually ceased. But the universities, particularly those in Britain, continued to be conservative and strict in the manner of academic customs and dress. At Oxford, for instance, candidates for master's degrees had to swear that they owned a gown and would always wear it at the proper times.

The first American universities were founded on English models. However, the wearing of academic dress was not universal and ceased during the Civil War. The custom was revived in the late nineteenth century, and in 1895 an academic custom code was adopted which, with modifications, is still used.

Most American universities have the standard black gown with the hood serving to distinguish the individual institution. Some American and European universities have adopted or preserved more distinctive gowns. There are three styles of gowns, distinguished mainly by the sleeves; the bachelor's gown, with long, pointed sleeves; the master's, with a squared sleeve, cut so the forearm is free; the doctor's, with bell-shaped sleeves with three velvet bands.

The hood is the really distinguishing feature of modern gowns, indicating the degree (the width of the edging band), the discipline (the color of the band) and the college or university (the colors of the lining). Today's graduates have hoods edged in white (B.A., M.A.L.S.) or gold (B.S., B.L.S.). Many faculty members will have blue edging indicating the Ph.D. degree. The faculty will be wearing hoods representing many distinguished institutions of higher education, e.g., orange and maroon for Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, maroon and white for the University of Chicago, red and black for Rutgers University, and navy blue and orange for the University of Virginia.

ACADEMIC HONORS AND SPECIAL AWARDS

Academic achievement is recognized at Commencement through a variety of honors and awards. Other awards were presented at the Convocation ceremony held on Friday, May 12. In addition, most academic departments sponsor chapters of honor societies which recognize student achievement in specific disciplines.

ACADEMIC DISTINCTION

The college recognizes the academic achievement of graduating students through the awards of Summa Cum Laude, Magna Cum Laude, and Cum Laude, With Highest Distinction, and With Distinction. Students who have earned at least 60 graded credits in residence may qualify for the first three of these awards with the following grade point averages.

Summa Cum Laude	3.75 or higher
Magna Cum Laude	3.50-3.74
Cum Laude	3.25-3.49

With Highest Distinction and With Distinction are awarded to graduating seniors who have earned 30 to 59 graded credits in residence with the following grade point averages.

With Highest Distinction	3.75 or higher
With Distinction	3.30-3.74

DEPARTMENTAL HONORS

Students may earn graduation with honors in their major subjects. Each department establishes its own requirements for honors projects or theses. All departments require that a student intending to undertake an honors project have a specified minimum grade point average in the major subject and a minimum grade point average for all work taken at Mary Washington College.

SPECIAL AWARDS

SPECIAL AWARDS

The names of this year's award-winners are kept confidential until they are announced at the Commencement ceremony.

Student _____

COLGATE W. DARDEN, JR. AWARD

This award was established in 1960 to honor Colgate W. Darden, Jr., president of the University of Virginia from 1947 to 1959. It consists of a medal designed by Gaetano Cecere, formerly of the Department of Art, and a cash sum. It is awarded to the senior having the highest cumulative grade point average. To be eligible for the Darden Award, a student must have earned at least 94 hours on which quality points may be computed.

Faculty _____

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OUTSTANDING YOUNG FACULTY MEMBER AWARD.

This award recognizes an outstanding young member of our faculty, one who has been at the college from two to five years. Started in 1989, recent recipients (and their current faculty ranks) include:

| 1999 | Steven A. Greenlaw
Associate Professor of Economics |

Special _____

THE WASHINGTON MEDALLION. The Washington Medallion is one of the College's most prestigious awards and is made jointly by the President of the College and the Board of Visitors. The purpose of the award is to recognize extraordinary service to the institution — service of a character that is significant and indelible in its impact, and that has contributed substantially to the enhancement of the quality and stature of Mary Washington College. Recipients are selected, in particular, for their contributions in one or more of the following areas: financial resource development, voluntary service, institutional leadership, external relations, and/or service to others. Only a limited number of Medallions may be awarded during a single academic year, and may be presented at appropriate College events such as Commencement.

FACULTY EMERITUS

Faculty members who have served Mary Washington College for at least 15 years and who have attained the rank of professor or associate professor are eligible upon retirement to be considered for emeritus status. This honor, by action of the Board of Visitors, is bestowed this year upon five distinguished members of the faculty.

Steven L. Czarsty

Professor of Business Administration

Steven L. Czarsty earned his B.S. and B.A. at the University of Hartford in Business in 1968, his M.B.A. from the University of Connecticut in 1970, and his D.B.A. from the George Washington University in 1975. Having taught at several colleges and universities in the Washington, D.C. area, he joined the Mary Washington faculty in 1978 as an Associate Professor and attained the rank of Professor in 1984. He was instrumental in creating the Department of Business Administration, and served as its chair from 1979 to 1987 and also as Director of the Masters of Business Administration program from 1980 to 1987. In addition to serving the College through his work on numerous committees, he has been extensively involved in community affairs, including Fredericksburg's MediCorp Health System and the Family Motorcoach Association Governing Board for the past ten years.

Roger J. Bourdon

Professor of History

Having earned his B.A. degree from Loyola University in Los Angeles and his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from UCLA, Roger J. Bourdon joined the History faculty of Mary Washington College in 1968. Since that time he has not only been responsible for the Department's offerings in the broad and important area of Early American History, but has taught courses as well on the American Indian, the frontier, and utopian communities. The excellence of his teaching was recognized in 1989 when he received the Grellet C. Simpson Award. He has served the College by furnishing leadership on numerous committees, where his wise counsel was always valued. His contributions to the College will continue through the Computer Access Center for the Visually Impaired which he established to assist students who, like him, have special needs in meeting the challenges presented by impaired vision.

Paul M. Zisman
Professor of Education

Paul M. Zisman earned his B.A. degree from the College of William and Mary, his M.A.T. from Howard University, and his Ph.D. in Comparative Education from The Catholic University of America. He joined the faculty of Mary Washington College in 1971 and has since taught many courses offered by the Education Department, specializing in ethical studies and instructional technology. He was instrumental in securing support for the Upward Bound Program and the James Farmer Scholars Program and sponsored several student organizations including the Polemic, the Asian Student Association, and Amnesty International. He was also active in the Leidecker Center for Asian Studies and the MWC Chapter of the AAUP. A frequent contributor to professional journals and meetings of scholarly associations, Dr. Zisman included multicultural education and aesthetic psychology among his primary research interests.

Joanna L. Reynolds
Associate Professor of Spanish

Joanna L. Reynolds received her bachelor's degree from Wesleyan College in Macon, Georgia, majoring in Modern Foreign Languages (Spanish, French, and German) and subsequently earned her M.A. from Duke and her Ph.D. from George Washington University. She joined the Mary Washington College faculty in 1968 to teach both Spanish and French. In addition to extensive teaching assignments, she was heavily involved in College governance activities and was instrumental in the development and promotion of the Writing Intensive Program. She served with distinction as chair of the Modern Foreign Languages Department during a demanding six-year period that was characterized by change and transition. Amidst all such activities, her primary devotion was always to teaching, and her extraordinary skill in the practice of her profession was recognized when she received the Grellet C. Simpson Award in 1988.

Diane F. Hatch
Professor of Classics

The holder of a B.A. degree in Latin from Sweet Briar College and M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in Classics from the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill, Diane F. Hatch joined the Mary Washington College faculty to teach Classics in 1966. Extensively involved in College activities throughout the ensuing 34 years, she was above all dedicated to teaching and to her students. Numbered among her former students are five college teachers and untold high-school Latin teachers. Co-author, together with Elizabeth A. Clark, of The Golden Bough, The Oaken Cross: The Vergilian Cento of Faltonia Betitia Proba, Dr. Hatch has been described by one of her colleagues as "an exacting scholar of distinctive precision and poise whose knowledge of Latin and Greek is still and deep and whose contribution to Mary Washington College is inestimable."

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

HERBERT H. BATEMAN

UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Herbert H. Bateman was born in North Carolina and moved to Virginia at an early age. He received his B.A. degree from the College of William and Mary in 1949 and, for two years thereafter, taught at Hampton High School.

With the outbreak of the Korean War he enlisted in the U.S. Air Force and was discharged as a First Lieutenant in 1953. He subsequently earned a law degree from the Georgetown University Law Center in 1956 and, after a clerkship with the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington, D.C., joined a Newport News law firm, where he practiced for 25 years. During that time he also served for 15 years in the Virginia Senate, where he gained a solid reputation for leadership and committee work in such diverse areas as agriculture, energy, education, and the budget.

Beginning in 1983, Mr. Bateman has represented the First District of Virginia for nine terms in the U.S. House of Representatives. He is currently a senior member of two influential committees in the House: the Armed Services Committee and the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee. In addition, he chairs the Armed Services Committee's Subcommittee on Military Readiness.

He also chairs the House Merchant Marine Panel, the body established in 1994 to exercise jurisdiction over almost all aspects of the nation's maritime interests. He has long been recognized as a leader in the effort to revitalize the nation's commercial shipbuilding industry and to clean up and protect the Chesapeake Bay. His other major interests include support for NASA and for military preparedness.

Mr. Bateman also has held leadership positions in numerous civic and charitable organizations. He has served as president of the Virginia Jaycees, chairman of the Peninsula Arena - Auditorium Authority, president and campaign chairman of the Peninsula United Way, and chairman of the Red Cross blood donor program. In addition, he has served on the advisory board of two Peninsula hospitals and as a member of the Peninsula Port Authority.

He is married to the former Laura Yacobi. They have two grown children and three grandchildren.

THE EAGLE PIPE BAND

Performing at today's commencement ceremony is the Eagle Pipe Band. The band was formed in 1997 with a small combination of Mary Washington College students and members of the Fredericksburg community. It has grown steadily each year, adding pipers, drummers, and dancers. During their first competitive outings last summer, the Eagle Pipe Band members were highly successful. This year we see our first graduating seniors who have been four-year members of the band.

Of special interest, and great pride, the Eagle Pipe Band was founded by, and is under the direction of, Dr. Raymond B. Scott, Chairperson and Professor of Chemistry at Mary Washington College. The majority of the performers at today's ceremony are students at Mary Washington College. The tartan worn by performers was designed by the College to match the school colors, and is registered in Scotland's official registry of tartans.

ALMA MATER

All hail, dear Alma Mater,
We sing our praise to you.
High on Marye's Hilltop
You stand forever true;
Born in truth and honor
You ever more shall be,
The model of our future years
And all eternity.

Whene'er we have to leave you
We never will forget,
The lessons you have taught us,
And all the friends we've met;
And we your sons and daughters
Will hold your name on high,
So here's to Mary Washington;
Our love will never die.
